

UnLitter Red Dot 12 October 2019 Habitat for Humanity

On 12 October 2019, AMKTC staff, together with volunteers from Habitat for Humanity conducted a clean-up session at Ang Mo Kio Town Centre. The 34 volunteers worked together to ensure that the Town Centre was spick and span on the busy Saturday morning. Residents also thought twice about littering upon seeing the volunteers at work.

“An auntie wanted to litter. While we are picking up litter, she stopped immediately,”

- George Leu, Property Manager at AMKTC

“We’re extremely grateful for the support that AMK Town Council has given us. We hope that through more of these UnLitter Red Dot sessions that we would be able to encourage more people to personally take ownership of their living spaces beyond their immediate homes and give our cleaners a restored sense of dignity. They really don’t have an easy job and they shouldn’t be cleaning up after us beyond clearing the bins.”

- Joyce Ho, Senior Programmes Executive at Habitat for Humanity Singapore
