

Pest Management Awareness

12 July 2019

Yio Chu Kang Secondary School

AMKTC partnered with 210 students from Yio Chu Kang Secondary school to raise pest control management awareness around the estate. The students created flyers on pest control and shared these with residents. They also gave out dengue awareness posters.

In addition, the students also painted rubbish bins to encourage residents to throw their litter into the bins. They also helped to clean up the common areas around the Yio Chu Kang neighbourhood.

“Apart from being aware that their neighbourhood have issues with pests, my students learnt soft skills like teamwork, communication with the public, etc as well as values like determination. These skills will benefit them even after they graduate. It is truly a meaningful event that we have done .”

-Mr Jeremy Chen (Teacher of Yio Chu Kang Secondary)

“I feel very happy that I am able to reach out to the community and distribute the flyers. I can share my knowledge with them about eliminating the pests and the residents can benefit from my sharing.”

- Michelle (12+ years old, Class 1E3)

“I feel that beautifying the bins and writing litter-free slogans are good ways to encourage the residents to throw their litter in the bins.”

- Jelena (12+ years old, Class 1A1)

“I feel satisfied that I am able to contribute a small part to the community and I hope that the people that saw us picking the litter will now start to keep the AMK environment clean and litter-free.”

- Peddy (12+ years old, Class 1T1)
